GOOD NEWS - Our teaching pro, Larry VanderRoest, is heading up a new committee to keep moving forward the excellent progress that was made last year with classifying Keowee Key pickleball players by skill level and playing experience. The committee greatly appreciated the strong participation with self evaluation surveys last year. Those provided an excellent starting point. The committee - made up of a diverse mix of Keowee Key pickleballers - will now be refining and updating the general groups we now have in the interest of benefiting all players.

There are several good reasons for this effort. First, it facilitates easy access to competitive and social play among similarly skilled players. It allows for training and continued game development to be structured by skill level. And it sets up a great way for players of similar playing ability to connect with each other.

Bottom Line - it's all about making the great pickleball experience here at Keowee Key even better! Please stay tuned for more details to come soon.
